No of Copy : 1/5
Headquarters Preparing : Special Operations Force Command
Place of Preparation : ISTANBUL
Date and Time Group : 300950 C MARCH 2009
Code Number : KF – 03

TIME FRAME: C

DIVISION OF TASKS: As indicated by Annex A

1. SITUATION:

- a. General: Public opinion developed in the wake of the operations involving Priest Santoro, Malatya Zirve Publishing House and Hrant DINK² that non-Muslims living in Turkey were the target of (Islamist) reactionary groups. However, intensive propaganda activities were staged by the AKP (Justice and Development Party) with the support of opposing media, depicting the said incidents as having been organized by Ergenekon.
- b. Enemy Elements:
- (1) Commissioned various news reports in the [government-friendly] media reflecting support of non-Muslims
 - (2) Received intensive support in the wake of the incident at Davos³
 - (3) Experienced a drop in the level of confidence they enjoy following allegations of corruption⁴ by the main parties, particularly the CHP
 - (4) Are faced with the belief that they are not successful enough in administration due to the increase in the unemployment rate as a result of the economic crisis

<http://www.ergenekonteror.com/filecat.php?id=27>.

² ESI explanation: Andrea Santoro, an Italian Catholic priest was killed in the Santa Maria church in the Black Sea town of Trabzon on 5 February 2006.
The Zirve Publishing House in Malatya is the centre of the small local Protestant community. Three of the Zirve employees, one German and two Turks were brutally killed on 18 April 2007 by five men in their early 20s. The trial against the murderers is still ongoing.
Hrant Dink was the founder and editor in chief of the weekly AGOS, which is published in Turkish and Armenian. Agos is more than an Armenian community paper, it has an important stance in Turkey's democratization movement, Dink was one of the protagonists for Turkey-Armenia rapprochement, the coming to terms with the past and the situation of non-Muslim minorities. He was assassinated on 19 January 2007 in front of the Agos building by a young man from Trabzon with links to the "deep state", the trial is ongoing.

³ ESI: At the World Economic Forum in January 2009 Prime Minister Erdogan criticized harshly the Israel attack on Gaza during a panel discussion with Shimon Peres. Erdogan in anger left the stage after he was interrupted by the moderator. He was welcomed in Turkey very supportively by the people and also among Arab societies his popularity increased.

⁴ ESI: These allegations mainly focus on a scandal involving a charity organization in Germany. The Lighthouse e.V. collected donations from Turks living in Germany to be used for business purposes. A court in Frankfurt in September 2008 convicted three managers of the charity for embezzling 14.5 million Euros. Several people based in Turkey, including some bureaucrats appointed by the AKP and some businessmen close to the government, were implicated.

(5) Did not achieve the success they expected in the local elections of March 29, 2009⁵

c. Friendly Elements

- (1) The campaign in favour of the members of our staff arrested under the Ergenekon Case – organised by political parties, various organizations, establishments and associations – has been successful.
- (2) The propaganda activities by the commonsensical press and publication organs against the reactionary groups continue at an increased tempo.
- (3) The success scored in the local elections has boosted our morale.
- (4) Although a part of the weapons, materials and equipment has been captured by the security forces,⁶ [the rest] is still sufficient for future operations.
- (5) A temporary difficulty is experienced in recruiting new members for the organization and the training level of the present staff is high.

2. DUTY:

To question the security of non-Muslims living in Turkey, increase pressure by both local and foreign communities on the AKP Government, to keep public opinion pre-occupied, and to change the agenda, particularly [with regard to] the Ergenekon Case.

3. EXECUTION:

a. Operation Draft:

(1) General Information

- (a) To ensure that the Special Operations Force Command extends support to those under arrest as part of the Ergenekon Case, to render the AKP's and its supporters' psychological war counter-actions ineffective, to boost the morale of the organization, and to win public support, fear propaganda will target non-Muslims. Through black propaganda such activities will be shown as if they were executed by the AKP and other evil hubs supporting the AKP.
- (b) The psychological operation activities to be executed are indicated in Annex B Psychological Operation Campaign Control Form.

⁶ ESI: The Ergenekon investigation began in the summer of 2007 after a weapons cache was found in the Istanbul suburb of Ümraniye. This has been followed by four more finds (Yenikent, Ankara; Gölbaşı, Ankara; Sapanca; Eskişehir). In total, 88 hand grenades, 15 kilograms of explosives, two shoulder-held missile launchers, dozens of guns and revolvers, hundreds of bullets, as well as mines and explosive devices, have been found.

PSYCHOLOGICAL OPERATION CAMPAIGN CONTROL FORM

a. TARGET:

[The target] is to increase both local and foreign pressure on the AKP Government, to keep the public pre-occupied and to change the agenda, particularly the Ergenekon case, by questioning the safety of non-Muslims' life and property.

b. TASK:

Effective propaganda techniques and mass communication media will be used to shape public awareness that non-Muslims living in Turkey, particularly AGOS Newspaper, are in danger, that the AKP Government does not protect their rights, and that the government pursues religious discrimination.

c. PSYCHOLOGICAL TARGET:

Intimidating propaganda will be used to negatively impact the non-Muslims, as its source the public will be convinced by black propaganda that the AKP and the AKP supporting evil accomplices are against non-Muslims.

d. CONDITIONS:

- a. In the wake of the murder of Hrant DINK, groups of people stood up for Hrant DINK and non-Muslims living in Turkey by shouting slogans like, "We are all Armenian" and "We are all Hrant".
- b. The AKP commissioned various news articles in the press and publication organs, which stated that the government protects non-Muslims.
- c. The atmosphere of enmity towards foreigners has grown somewhat in the wake of the Davos crisis.

e. ATTITUDE, SENSITIVITY AND EFFECTIVENESS OF THE TARGET:

Segments influenced by the propaganda are made to think:

- a. That non-Muslims living in Turkey are oppressed and cannot freely practice their beliefs
- b. That the AKP Government represents only the members of the Islamic religion and does not work for the rights of the minorities
- c. That non-Muslims are targeted by radical Islamist formations and are under threat
- d. That attempts are made to suppress press and publication organs – particularly AGOS Newspaper – endeavouring to voice the interests of the minorities.

f. THEMES:

- a. Themes to be used:
 1. The AKP's target is to establish a theocratic Islamic dictatorship by making the provisions of Islam prevalent in all the systems of the state.
 2. The AKP attempts to keep any citizens belonging to religions other than Islam under pressure.
 3. When the AKP reaches a condition where it cannot be restrained by any powers to step back, it will pursue the objective of eliminating Atatürk's Atatürk's Principles and Revolutions and topple the secular, democratic, social and legal state and establish a regime based on religious principles.

4. Our non-Muslim citizens living on the Islands [Adalar] are suffering oppression and under threat.
5. The AKP Government ignores the oppression of, and threats to, the non-Muslims.
6. A significant segment of the media in Turkey acts under the control of the AKP and fundamentalist terror organizations.
7. Attempts are being made to silence the limited number of media, particularly AGOS Newspaper, that defend the rights of minorities.
8. By terrorizing them with propaganda and slogans such as “Die or Leave!”, “Whose are the Islands?” and “You will be thrown into sea again!”, [the AKP] intends to force our non-Muslim citizens living on Adalar to emigrate.

b. Themes to be avoided:

- (1) The AKP Government respects all religions and beliefs.
- (2) All non-Muslims living in Turkey can freely worship and practice their beliefs.
- (3) Minorities in Turkey have equal rights and suffer no discrimination.

g. TARGET GROUPS TO BE REACHED BY ORDER OF PRIORITY:

a. Subscribers of AGOS Newspaper living on Adalar:

They must be placed under psychological pressure by emphasizing that they are under very serious threat; it must be ensured that they voice this [concern].

b. Non-Muslims living in Turkey:

By making it known that we have information on activities against the subscribers of AGOS Newspaper, it must be ensured that they think they could be included on the hit list sooner or later.

c. Non-Muslims living abroad:

Public opinion abroad should be induced to embrace the idea that minorities and non-Muslims in Turkey are subjected to oppression.

d. Citizens having a secular and democratic understanding:

They must be informed that anti-secular formations are on the rise, that secularism will be replaced by Sharia (Islamic Law), and that nobody including the minorities would be able to live freely unless measures are taken.

e. Conservative Citizens:

They must be provoked by the idea that AGOS Newspaper and similar publications are against Islam and pursue separatism.

f. Members of the Opposition Party

They must be informed that AKP tolerates – and even supports – threats and incidents against non-Muslims.

h. KEY COMMUNICATION FIGURES:

a. Religious Functionaries of the Minority faiths:

Both local and foreign public opinion should be directed to this issue by statements that they are suffering oppression and under threat for their beliefs.

- b. Members of the Opposition Party:
They must be guided to carry out campaigns announcing that the AKP tolerates – and even supports – threats and incidents against non-Muslims.
- c. Writers, Editors, Program Producers and Presenters Working in the Press and Publication Organs:
By contacting media organizations that own anti-AKP publications, the agenda must be kept hot. Publications made by them should focus on the identified themes.
- d. Non-Governmental Organizations and Trade Unions:
It must be ensured that they organize events (marches, demonstrations, panels, etc.) in line with the identified themes.
- e. Popular Artists:
They must draw public attention by making statements in line with the identified themes during their programs.

i. COMMUNICATION TOOLS OF THE CAMPAIGN AND THEIR INTENSITY AND TIMING:

Under the psychological terror propaganda:

- (1) The lists of subscribers to AGOS Newspaper which have been obtained will be published on the Internet, particularly on share sites and reactionary web sites.
- (2) Phone threats will be made and threat letters sent to the subscribers to AGOS Newspaper.
- (3) Threatening slogans will be written on widely used routes in the Adalar [Princes Islands] region.
- (4) The lists of subscribers will be duplicated and left in locations where they are easily visible to citizens living on Adalar.
- (5) Bombs will be detonated at various quarters in the Adalar district.
- (6) Assassinations will be organized against persons known as fierce defenders of minority rights.
- (7) Sound bombs will be placed in identified locations such as the vicinity of AGOS Newspaper.
- (8) By placing suspicious packages at many spots and informing the police of them, the security forces will be kept preoccupied.
- (9) Similar actions will also be conducted in provinces with a high population of non-Muslims, such as Istanbul and Izmir.

As part of shaping public opinion:

- (1) It will be ensured that the lists of subscribers are published by the press, thus receiving coverage.
- (2) Columns will be commissioned about the issue.
- (3) The issue will receive coverage in debate programs, with the nonsensical attitude of AKP government being raised.
- (4) The media will again cover the Incidents of 6-7 September [1955] and the [1942] Wealth Tax.
- (5) The level of activity of anti-AKP web sites will be increased.
- (6) Web sites supportive of minorities will be supported in terms of content.

- (7) By developing new websites like www.tehditaltindayiz.com (“We are under threat”) and www.agosasahipcikalim.com (“Let’s protect Agos”), in addition the present ones, broadcasting will be made in line with the identified themes. Such sites will be effectively promoted.
- (8) Web sites that appear to be sourced by the AKP and pro-government media will be established. Such sites will be promoted as required. Publications with religious content will be mixed with messages depicting the media of minority groups, particularly AGOS Newspaper, as targets.
- (9) By showing AKP and reactionary groups as the culprit of the actions executed, “black propaganda” will be carried out.
